II. Basis for Jurisdiction

Federal courts are courts of limited jurisdiction (limited power). Generally, only two types of cases can be heard in federal court: cases involving a federal question and cases involving diversity of citizenship of the parties. Under 28 U.S.C. § 1331, a case arising under the United States Constitution or federal laws or treaties is a federal question case. Under 28 U.S.C. § 1332, a case in which a citizen of one State sues a citizen of another State or nation and the amount at stake is more than $75,000 is a diversity of citizenship case. In a diversity of citizenship case, no defendant may be a citizen of the same State as any plaintiff.

III. Statement of Claim

Write a short and plain statement of the claim. Do not make legal arguments. State as briefly as possible the facts showing that each plaintiff is entitled to the damages or other relief sought. State how each defendant was involved and what each defendant did that caused the plaintiff harm or violated the plaintiff's rights, including the dates and places of that involvement or conduct. If more than one claim is asserted, number each claim and write a short and plain statement of each claim in a separate paragraph. Attach additional pages if needed.

The defendants either directly or indirectly, in marketing a product across various e-commerce platforms, including but not confined to Amazon, eBay, and Google Shopping. The product, known under various names such as "Grab Bar Mounting Kit Grab Bar Anchors for Installing Grab Bar to Studs," includes an instructional sheet that incorporates several elements of the plaintiff's intellectual property. This unauthorized use, ranging from text excerpts to modified versions of our images, enables the defendant to sell the product while violating the plaintiffs intellectual property rights.

IV. Relief

State briefly and precisely what damages or other relief the plaintiff asks the court to order. Do not make legal arguments. Include any basis for claiming that the wrongs alleged are continuing at the present time. Include the amounts of any actual damages claimed for the acts alleged and the basis for these amounts. Include any punitive or exemplary damages claimed, the amounts, and the reasons you claim you are entitled to actual or punitive money damages.

1. I seek the maximum predetermined amounts allowed by law as statutory damages.
2. I seek an injunction restraining the plaintiff from selling this product in The United States.
3. Due to ongoing issues and prior complaints filed with Amazon, as well as a cease and desist letter sent to the defendant yielding no results, it is evident that these defendants show no regard for United States copyright laws, necessitating punitive or exemplary damages of $100,000.00.

V. Certification and Closing
